Marlow 65 Avalon

A legend in the making.

Avalon was a mystical place where, according to legend, the enchanted sword Excalibur was made and where the body of King Arthur was brought to heal after his final battle at Camlann. In other words, Avalon was a magical place — making it a fitting name for the stunning new 65 Avalon now available from Marlow Yachts.

“Our new model 65 Avalon is a masterpiece of floating artistry, capable of exhilarating sport yacht performance while meeting the demands of long range cruising,” said Eric Gervais, sales director for Marlow Yachts.

One look at the Avalon’s stylish and dynamic profile hints at the cruising opportunities which await owners and guests alike. Getting there is the fun part, thanks to a pair of powerful 1200-hp MAN V8 diesels and a generous 1,850 gallon fuel capacity to propel the next adventure. Helping further are a pair of Velocijet strut keels for increased stability, reduced drag and better protection of the running gear.

From the expansive bridge deck and its elegant, curved staircase to the multi-purpose aft garage, which can house a tender or be arranged as a welcoming beach space, the Avalon delights throughout with its inspired design and opulent comforts. Three staterooms — the full-beam owner’s quarters, a plush VIP suite forward and a spacious guest berth to starboard — deliver all the comforts of home including abundant storage for personal items, befitting a long-range cruiser. Even the engine room offers stand-up headroom and fully air-conditioned comfort.

“She has her outdoor and indoor living space, speed, comfort and craftsmanship, all taken to the next level,” said Gervais.

Marlow’s new 65 Avalon raises the bar on cruising comfort, surely paving the way for others to follow with its eyebrow-raising style, comfort and performance. ✦
